ONEAC Medical-Grade Products

ONEAC isolation transformer-based products cost-effectively ensure system reliability far better than power protection devices built for home or office use, freeing medical staff to focus on delivering quality patient care. Because of their superior reliability and power conditioning technology, ONEAC medical grade UPS and Power Conditioner products are truly a "wellness program" for your medical electronics. Featuring ONEAC's patented Virtual Kelvin Ground - a unique grounding methodology that creates a noise-free power environment. ONEAC's ability to remove a wide spectrum of conducted power line noise in all modes explains why ONEAC is used by leading healthcare and medical facilities around the globe. ONEAC medical-grade products comply to the IEC60601-1 safety standard.
